

Ernie Martinez

Per.7,8

2-2-17

EBA#3 Essay

Google is not helping you at all please doing the exact opposite! I used Is Google making us stupid?"(Source A) An article by Nicholas Carr, and " Google fact is technology making us stupid?" (Source B) an article by Genevieve Roberts and an infographic. Google is one of the most famous and biggest search engines out today with a goal reaching 1 Google results and Google is a reliable source and you can find information that you need in just one click. I say Google is making us stupid by making more distractions, worsening our memorization, and giving us false information.

To begin with, Google can be a huge distraction. Google has many other little things roaming on your screen. As talked and Resource (A) "If we're distracted we understand less, Remember less, and learn less". this can be caused by add links to games etc..... I know this from experience on Google. they're also apps like Hangouts or games that you have installed and you're eager to click on the game or message as I said this happens to me. This affects your intelligence by making you more distracted not pay attention of what you're supposed to do or research on Google. Also in (Resource A) it states "The net bombard us with messages and other bits of data, and every one of those interruptions and breaks our train of thought". It's not just outside of the words reading in the Internet it's the thing you search up as well, you can have extra info that you don't need and just is distracting you and your thoughts. They're also maybe clickbait or some feature that interrupts you, this is one reason Google's making us more stupid.

Secondly, memorization is weakened by Google and some of the features that it has. according to (Resource B) "Our Brain relies on the internet for memory and much same way that they rely on the memory of a friend, family member or co-worker". This can cause for problems because if the people or as I said using Google tools are gone the brain relies on it and we would be most likely lost and I've experienced this myself. It's like telling yourself eh I can just come back later and see what it is because I have a bookmark on Google on the page anyway, And this is a really bad habit to get into. As also said in (Resource B " The Kaspersky lab concludes we don't commit data to memory because of the " Google effect" we're safe in the knowledge that answers are just a click away and they're happy to treat the web like an extension to our own memory". like I said before this is a bad habit and leads us to easily forget things and technically not be so independent mindwise. Adding the internet as your own attention to your mind doesn't help me at all when it actually isn't part of your memory so depending if something is not dependable. This is another very important reason why Google is indeed making us less intelligent.

Last but not least, false information given can really good your mind the wrong information and ruin your intelligence or the knowledge of knowing that topic. As claimed in (Resource C) "The internet is filled with incorrect information, Which may lead to being misinformed". This is really bad and instead of information that you need you'll see the wrong information and put that in your homework or on your work and more important in your mind/brain. fossil discount impact your smartness and your grades and your knowledge. As said in (Resource C) “with internet access everything is a click away when we don't know something to turn on your computer to rectify the situation”.If You recertify new computer and you're like okay I got the answer but the answer is wrong this can sometimes be embarrassing as it happened once my friend in language arts while he was presenting a project and got wrong info off the internet.

In conclusion, Google is still making stupid with the distractions Google causes, worsening your memorization, and giving you wrong information. Its significance is that Google supposed to help you but it does the opposite. Another thing is that Google is one of the most used search engines and should be more trustworthy. but oh well the next time you get on Google check if the info is right and you have memorized the information while not getting distracted.